

Exercise walk-through

World War I ■ 8.2

eXercise

You must be able to

- state the CED's formula for the war's causes
- explain how new technology altered the fighting
- state the chain from stalemate to revolution
- name the three shifts in Europe's relation to the world

Method — Causes

The war was caused by a complex interaction of long- and short-term factors and resulted in immense losses and disruptions for both victors and vanquished.

Method — Technology and fighting

New technologies confounded traditional military strategies and led to trench warfare and massive troop losses. The strategies were not merely outdated; they were defeated by conditions they could not read.

Method — Stalemate to revolution

The effects of military stalemate, national mobilisation and total war led to protest and insurrection in the belligerent nations and eventually to revolutions that changed the international balance of power.

Method — Three shifts

Europe's relationship to the world shifted with the globalisation of the conflict, the emergence of the United States as a world power, and the overthrow of European empires.

Practice 2.1 ■ 2 marks

State the CED's formula for the war's causes and its effect on both sides.

Solution 2.1

Method: Causes

Worked steps

a complex interaction of long- and short-term factors B1; immense losses and disruptions for both victors and vanquished B1.

Practice 2.2 ■ 2 marks

Explain what “confounded” adds to “outdated”.

Solution 2.2

Method: Technology and fighting

Worked steps

“outdated” implies replacement was overdue B1; “confounded” says the strategies were defeated by conditions they could not read B1.

Practice 2.3 ■ 2 marks

Stalemate leads to revolution.

- (a) State the chain in order.
- (b) State what it changed.

Solution 2.3

Method: Stalemate to revolution

Worked steps

(a) stalemate, mobilisation and total war → protest → insurrection → revolution
B2. (b) the international balance of power B1.

Exam-style 3.1 ■ 1 mark

The CED says the war brought immense losses for

- A the defeated only
- B both victors and vanquished
- C neutral states only
- D civilians only

Solution 3.1

Method: Causes

- A the defeated only
- B both victors and vanquished
- C neutral states only
- D civilians only

Worked steps

B. the CED covers both sides.

Exam-style 3.2 ■ 1 mark

The three shifts include the emergence of

- A the Ottoman Empire
- B the United States as a world power
- C the Concert of Europe
- D Napoleonic France

Solution 3.2

Method: Three shifts

- A the Ottoman Empire
- B the United States as a world power
- C the Concert of Europe
- D Napoleonic France

Worked steps

B. the United States is named.

Exam-style 3.3 ■ 1 mark

A general plans for movement and meets a weapon that makes movement fatal.

- (a) State the result.
- (b) Explain why this is not a failure of nerve.

Solution 3.3

Worked steps

(a) both sides dig in and the front stops moving B1. (b) entrenchment is the correct response to a weapon that makes advance lethal B1, so the outcome follows from the technology rather than from the commanders' character B1.
