The method

Method — Worked example

A manageable film needs shared intention, role allocation, resources, permissions and time. An individual report explains the person's decisions within the collective outcome, including disagreements and limitations.

Task: an editor's cut shortens a pause, but the performer wanted hesitation. Plan a collaborative review.

Compare actual versions against the shared intended effect, hear role-specific reasons and seek suitable audience feedback. Record the agreed choice and the editor's contribution without claiming every team decision personally.

Exercises 2.1·3.1

2.1 For the worked case, identify the evidence and a conclusion it can support. Explain one material limit. [3]

3.1 A shorter cut improves pacing but loses ambiguity. How should collaboration justify a choice? Give a reasoned answer, evidence or method, and a relevant qualification. [3]

Exercises 2.1·3.1

2.1 For the worked case, identify the evidence and a conclusion it can support. Explain one material limit. [3]

2.1 Compare actual versions against the shared intended effect, hear role-specific reasons and seek suitable audience feedback. Record the agreed choice and the editor's contribution without claiming every team decision personally. Authored points for identifying relevant evidence, explaining a supported inference and a material limit.

3.1 A shorter cut improves pacing but loses ambiguity. How should collaboration justify a choice? Give a reasoned answer, evidence or method, and a relevant qualification. [3]

3.1 Compare actual versions against the shared priority, discuss performance and editing evidence and use suitable feedback. A justified compromise might retain the critical hesitation while trimming elsewhere. Record the editor's specific decision and its limitation, without claiming a universally best duration. Authored points for a relevant judgement, reason tied to the case and justified qualification or method. Accept a supported alternative.
