Solutions

IGCSE Business answers are marked by level of response: award K knowledge, App application, An analysis and Ev a justified judgement.

2.1 the drive or willingness that makes a person want to work hard (2 for a clear definition; 1 for a partial idea).

2.2 any two of: higher productivity; lower absenteeism; lower labour turnover (1 + 1).

2.3 a financial method rewards workers with money (wage, bonus); a non-financial method motivates without extra money (job enrichment, teamwork) (2 for a clear difference; 1 for a partial idea).

3.1 any two of: wage; time rate; piece rate; salary; commission; bonus; profit sharing; fringe benefits (1 + 1).

3.2 [6] For each of two methods: K 1 + An up to 2 — e.g. job enrichment: more challenging tasks → workers feel valued and achieve more → higher motivation. Teamworking: workers support each other → they feel part of a group → lower absence. Maximum 3 each.

3.3 [6] Both sides + judgement. For pay: it meets basic and safety needs (Maslow) and works well for low-paid or piece-rate work (Taylor). Against: Herzberg says pay only prevents unhappiness — recognition, responsibility and interesting work motivate more, and pay rises cost the firm. Judgement (Ev): pay matters most when wages are low, but the best motivation usually mixes financial and non-financial methods — it depends on the workers and the job.
