

Question 25 (Answer: A)

- Copper is a good conductor and ductile, so it can be drawn out into wire.
- Brass is copper with zinc; bronze is the tin alloy.
- Overhead cables use aluminium, because it is much lighter.